

THE SNAPPY

CURRICULUM VITAE OF ARLEY McBLAIN

// January 25, 2010 // For THRILLWORKS INC. // Hoola Hoop

THE THRILL IS ALL MINE.

At the risk of coming on too strong I have to say I just love the Thrillworks website. I long to work with a team of Internet-loving people who create amazing work. I can honestly say I've never seen a website that made me want to be a part of the team the way your site has. I can tell you all love what you do.

For the last three years I've been working for myself as a freelance and contract Graphic Designer / Web Developer. While I love the work (and my boss is an amazing guy), I truly loathe accounting, and I cringe at the thought of cold calling or approaching potential clients completely unsolicited. I am passionate about making beautiful work and creating outstanding web experiences. That's all I want to do.

Your job ad for Web/Graphic Designer (you know, the one that admits to reading my mind) describes the things I love doing most. To say I am eager to talk with you about the possibility of working with you would be a sever understatement.

I would love an audience with you at your convenience to talk about the great work you do, and how awesomely I would fit in. You can find some testimonials, and links to work at <http://iwanttobeathrillworker.com>

Good day!
